SOMERSET.

After a prolonged stay in the blue-grass section, your correspondent is once more at home. Upon our return to Somerset we found that the city had outgrown us, over 100 houses having been completed and others receiving the click and clatter of busy hammers, from early morn to dewy eve. In no place in all our rambles have we found so much push and enterprise as right here in this growing little city.

It was a source of deep gratification to observe the spirit that pervaded the place on Beckham day. Not an event occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion. He was tendered a real ovation, the parade of a mile in length being orderly and patriotic. Upon reassembling the High School building there were 400 pupils to give cordial greeting, and after thanking them for their kindly notice, the Governor presented a very sweet, helpful, hopeful speech, telling them to whatever political party they might belong, they should remember that they are citizens of this grand old Commonwealth, the greatest in the Union, and they had reasons to be proud of this beautiful mountain country. He addressed a large audience at the Opera House at 1 P. M. and was tendered a fine reception at night. He most certainly made a good impression here. Many availed themselves of the opportunity to give him a warm grasp of the hand.

The weather continues warm and dry here, a light shower only having laid the dust previous to Beckham day.

The different churches are now preparing for a series of receptions and entertainments in the near future. The Sunday-school pupils were delightedly entertained at the Christian church Friday night, cakes and ice-cream served.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, it has pleased the Omnipotent Ruler of all things to remove from this world and from the society of those who love him, our friend and associate, the Hon. Vincent Boreling, we, the Directors of the Cumberland Valley Land Company, of which, at the time of his decease, he was the President, feel that we should officially express our recognition of the ability and fidelity with which he discharged the duties of that position, and of the courtesy and consideration he invariably extended to his colleagues and to all those with whom business relations brought him in contact. We wish, also, to testify to his many excellent and admirable traits of character and to gratefully acknowledge our appreciation of the friendly services which we, as all others so fortunate as to be in any wise associated with him, received at his hands.

Therefore, be it resolved that, in the death of the Hon. Vincent Boreling, we deplore the loss of a man who, in his public and private life, benefited and honored the community of which he was a citizen, who, in all the vocations in which, during his busy and useful career, he was engaged, faithfully observed every obligation and manfully performed every task, who justly received the approbation and endorsement of his people for services rendered his country, and deserved and won the affection of his fellow citizens by kindness, charity and equity in all his dealings, and whose memory will be cherished and preserved long after the grave has closed over his mortal remains.

RESOLVED, That copies of these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of the Company and be sent to his family, and that they be printed in the INTERIOR JOURNAL, Mountain Echo, the Mountain Democrat, Courier-Journal, Lexington Democrat and Louisville Herald.

The fellow knocked Mr. Darst from his grip on the hand holds and the clever flagman came near rolling under the wheels. AFTER abusing Belknap and his party's methods and declaring he would not take the stump for the republican ticket this fall, Ex-Gov. W. O. Bradley awakes from his hypnotic slumbers long enough to write to John C. Wood, chairman of the republican speakers' bureau, as follows: "Had my health justified I would have spoken for the republican party before this, and shall certainly speak as soon as able. The best interest of the State requires the election of the republican ticket, and I trust that no man will be found who is not willing to do his duty." It was reported that the governor got $1,000 a speech when he was finally persuaded to take the stump for Taylor but of course in the present campaign when such poor men as "Snowball" Belknap, et al., are running they could not pay such a price, which we think is not high for so good a stump as the ex-governor is.

DRY GOODS.

DANVILLE, KY.

• Tailored Suits. •

In calling your attention to our new line of Suits we claim for them special excellence in styles, fit and tailoring. You may buy lower price Suits but you will not find better. Our styles are exclusive and are all made by men tailors in clean, sanitary work rooms.

We show about 300 Suits, representing all the good shapes of the season made of Broadcloth, Venetian, Cheviot, Zibelline, Rough Mixtures, &c., from $10 to $50.

Those who object to long skirted coats will find many bargains in short coat suits. Alterations made by fine tailor free of charge.

• Skirts. •

Long Dress Skirts of Broadcloths, Venetians, Cheviots, Voiles, London Twines, Mistrals, &c., at every price from $5 to $17. Most all are our own exclusive styles.

Walking Skirts

From $3 up, representing many new and attractive styles and shapes and popular materials. You will find that our cheapest skirts fit and hang properly. See them before getting your winter outfit.

• Cloaks. •

More handsome and exclusive style cloaks than you will see anywhere in Central Kentucky.

Silk coats up to $40 and cloth coats at all prices from $5 to $35, representing the latest New York fashions.

A large and choice line of cravat-netted

• RAIN COATS •

From $12.50 to $25 in colors and black. These are very popular and very practical.

• FURS. •

The early Fur buyer gets the choicest prices. Why not buy now while you have choice of about 200 new fur pieces, comprising all the desirable furs and newest shapes. Any price you may want from $1 to $40 each. Let us show them to you.

NEW WAISTINGS.

We are showing a very large assortment of very fine quality mercerized Oxford in white and fancy colors at 25c to $1. Most of these we imported direct from France and cannot be seen elsewhere. Price may sound high but just wait until you see the goods, then you will buy, just as others are doing.

BLACK SILK WAISTS

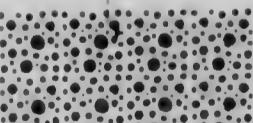

Are a sort of "Mann-Friday" in a ladies' wardrobe. They prove their all-round utility every day in the week and always give a neat, well-dressed appearance.

We are now showing new lines of very exceptional values at $5 to $7.50, which we would like to have you examine.

FINE MILLINERY.

We are the only house in Central Kentucky showing a line of the celebrated Phipps & Atchison hats. Their name in a hat guarantees it to be the correct thing. We also have the best models from Gage Bros., of Chicago.

In fancy trimmed and black hats we show about 200, representing the best and latest efforts of the most artistic milliners in New York City. These were made for the finest city trade and are distinctly different from the home product, while the prices are, in most cases, lower.
